Professional Statement

My name is Moussa, and I am a networking student with a strong interest in cybersecurity and technology.

My goal is to use my time-management skills, curiosity, and willingness to learn to develop the technical and analytical abilities needed to build a career in cybersecurity.

I am particularly interested in understanding how organizations protect their systems, networks, and data from security threats. I want to develop the skills necessary to identify vulnerabilities, analyze risks, respond to security incidents, and help organizations protect their assets while ensuring secure and authorized access to data.

I am currently building my cybersecurity knowledge and practical skills through the Google Cybersecurity Professional Certificate and hands-on projects. I am committed to continuous learning and to turning theoretical knowledge into practical cybersecurity skills.
